"WITHIN THE LAW"

The Average Individual, and practically all corporations of today, regard their duty as having been discharged if they live "within the law."—that is, do not violate the statute laws—while there are a few individuals, and an occasional corporation, whose course of action is controlled entirely by the strict observance of the MORAL LAW, and as the statute law, at best, is a compromise, "while guarding the stronger from degradation, it must permit the weaker to exist." This is never concerned by the requirements of the statute law, it is concerned by the MORAL LAW, which is the most perfect code of life insurance laws of any state in the Union for the protection of life policy holders. It is also said that of the seven life insurance companies chartered by that State, six of them have policies in force, issued previous to the enactment of some of the laws that they would not be allowed to re-issue in their original form, to the persons to whom originally issued. The MUTUAL BENEFIT LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY has been operating in Massachusetts for 73 years, strictly under the MORAL LAW, and would, if necessary, lose every policy it has in force today exactly in the same form, and still be "within the law," as made and provided. The Mutual Benefit is the only company in business today that can operate in every State in the Union without making a single change in its policy contracts to comply with a statute law simply because it is controlled entirely by the MORAL LAW, which is higher. Don't you think that you would be greatly satisfied with a policy in a company controlled by its principles?

HOW DOCTORS TREAT COLDS AND GRIPPE

Ask any physician or druggist and he will tell you that the best and only effective remedy for a bad cold, sore throat or influenza is what he calls a "bark cologne purge," which means a big dose of calomel at bed time. But as the old style calomel has some very unpleasant and dangerous qualities physicians and druggists are now recommending a harmless, non-toxic cologne, called "Calomel," which is purified and refined from the scumming and dangerous effects and whose medicinal virtues are vastly improved.

One Calomel on the tongue at bedtime with a swallow of water—there's all the salts, no nausea nor the slightest interference with your diet, pleasure or work. Next morning the system is purified and refreshed. Calomels are sold only in original sealed packages, price thirty-five cents. Your druggist guarantees Calomels by returning the price if you are not delighted—adv.
